Being part of the Partnership and Fundraising team combines the best of both worlds: working with global actors from different sectors while having a field experience with the Youth of LP4Y. Within our dynamic team, I manage relations and activities with specific partners from making first contact to defining strategic joint actions and drafting fundraising proposal. This mission not only provides a comprehensive overview of LP4Y's global activities and projects but also allows me to remain deeply engaged in the day-to-day operations at my center.
